A Life Audit

Often we pay no attention to how we feel, physically and mentally, as life is too busy to stop and check in with ourselves. If we do not know what is wrong, then we cannot work out how to fix it. During this session we evaluate 20 areas of life to see where there is imbalance, and therefore where we can make positive change.

Discovering your Core Values

Core values are our fundamental beliefs. These guiding principles dictate our behaviour and can help people understand why they think, feel or act in a specific way. This practical exercise will help you discover your core values and how to realign aspects of your life around them.

Goal Setting

This goal-setting workshop brings clarity, direction and purpose as well as being a bonding exercise for your team. This session covers goals across work, life and health as each area directly impacts the other one.

You are what you Eat

We literally are what we eat. Poor food choices can impact our health and wellbeing which directly impacts our personal and professional lives. This talk cuts through all the noise to explain how to make the right food choices without breaking the bank. It also includes a team challenge where each member focuses on eating 30 whole plant foods in a 7 day period.

For Leaders – Put your Oxygen Mask on First

Reflecting the message we hear when we fly, this talk describes leaders' self-care behaviour as their "oxygen masks" and looks at how leaders can manage their physical, mental and emotional wellbeing to manage their energy to help those in their teams.
